

Over 100 years of awesome (and we're just getting started)

A NEW LOOK, A NEW SEASON...
AND A NEW ATTITUDE.

Can't stop the music. MM has kept the music going for a very long time—in fact, we're one of the three oldest music presenters in the United States. We've stood up to some daunting challenges: the Great Moose Lake-Cloquet Fire of 1918, the Spanish Influenza, and two World Wars. And we hold a great track record for booking stars on the rise: Pablo Casals, Percy Grainger, Shirley Verrett, and Paul Robeson, Osmo Vänskä and Dawn Upshaw, to name a few. Not too shabby.

Catch a rising star. After almost 115 years of putting on great concerts, we've learned a thing or two about picking out winners and bringing them to our community. Tickets are inexpensive, parking is free, and you'll enjoy sitting nice and close for a truly intimate experience.

So what are you waiting for? Order your season tickets today!

THE MM ORIGIN STORY: 13 DULUTH WOMEN ON A DARK AND STORMY NIGHT

"A cold autumn rain half hidden by wisps of fog was falling on the afternoon of Saturday, October 6, 1900, when thirteen determined women found their way to the Duluth home of Margaret and Alexander McRae. Their mission that day was an ambitious one: 'the establishment of a society intended to advance the interest and promote the culture of musical art in the city of Duluth.'"

Join us for the MM 2014 | 2015 concert season

Welcome to our new season: young performers, fresh interpretations of the classics, cutting-edge compositions and the rhythms and colors of world music.

WIND ENERGY

TUES, OCT 14, 2014

MIDIC WINDS

Mitchell Auditorium
The College of St. Scholastica
7:30 pm

We kick off our season with Midic Winds, featuring Johanna Gruskin, fabulous flutist and daughter of Duluth musicians and teachers Dr. LeAnn House and Shelley Gruskin. Bronze winners of the 2013 Fischoff National Chamber Music Competition, the quintet performs from a classical and modern repertoire.

Fast-rising stars with a Duluth connection

STARS IN ASCENDENCE

TUES, MAR 24, 2015

ZODIAC TRIO

Mitchell Auditorium
The College of St. Scholastica
7:30 pm

Featuring a rare combination of instruments—clarinet, violin and piano—the Zodiac Trio has been racking up awards from the U.S., France, Italy and Japan ever since they formed in 2006. In 2013, they released a recording of trios which ConcertNet.com called “a spiritual and sparkling performance.”

“One of the best chamber ensembles of its generation” —La Marseillaise, France

GUITAR HEROES

TUES, NOV 18, 2014

BRASIL GUITAR DUO

Pilgrim Congregational Church
2310 East 4th Street
7:30 pm

Don't miss the return to the MM stage of the Brasil Guitar Duo, the brilliant collaboration of João Luiz and Douglas Lora. True virtuosos, they perform works from the classical guitar catalogue, as well as traditional music from their native land, including choro, samba, maxixe, and baião.

“Two new kids on the classical guitar block...armed and ready with the music of São Paulo's streets.” —Rick de Yampert, The Daytona Beach News Journal
